Disclosure of Financial Relationships and Resolution of Conflicts of Interest

The AAP policy on disclosure of financial relationships and resolution of conflicts of interest is designed to ensure quality, objective, balanced, and scientifically rigorous AAP CME activities. All individuals in a position to influence and/or control the content of AAP CME activities are required to disclose to the AAP and subsequently to leaders that they either have no relevant financial relationships or any financial relationships with the manufacturer(s) of any commercial product(s) and/or provider(s) of commercial services discussed in CME activities. All potential conflicts of interest are identified and resolved prior to an individual's confirmation of service at an AAP CME activity. Beyond disclosure of financial relationships, AAP CME faculty are required to disclose to the AAP and to learners when they plan to discuss or demonstrate pharmaceuticals and/or medical devices and/or medical or surgical procedures that involve "off-label" use of a device or pharmaceutical. The AAP is committed to providing learners with commercially unbiased CME activities.

It is the policy of the American College of Osteopathic Pediatricians (ACOP) CME Program to insure balance, independence, objectivity, and scientific rigor in all its educational activities. A conflict of interest exists when an individual or their spouse/partner has a relevant financial relationship/affiliation with a commercial interest. These relationships are defined as financial relationships in any amount occurring within the past 12 months with any proprietary entity producing health care goods or services consumed by, or used on patients. All faculty, authors, members of planning committees and staff participating in any CME educational activity are therefore expected to disclose all financial relationships/affiliations. The principal intent of this disclosure is not to prevent an individual with such relationships from participating in the activity. Disclosure is required so that the planning committee, course director, and/or staff can resolve these conflicts and so that participants may be informed and form their own judgments about the activity in the light of full disclosure of the facts. Faculty, authors, members of planning committee and staff should utilize the best available evidence when developing the content of the activity. Participants will be asked to evaluate the objectivity of the presentation and to identify any perceived commercial bias.
